Hi Sagar,

Please be informed that, as mutually agreed, Monday, 28 August 2026, will be your Last Working Day (LWD) with the organization. The shortfall in your notice period will be waived, and accordingly, neither you nor the organization will be required to make any payment towards the notice period shortfall.

Additionally, considering the Red BGC outcome and submission of forged/incorrect documentation, your salary payable from your Date of Joining (DOJ) until your LWD will be processed as part of your Full & Final (F&F) settlement, subject to the applicable payroll and settlement processes.

Kindly acknowledge receipt and confirm your understanding of the above.

Thank you,
Nishant

Subject: Formal Resignation - Business Analyst

Hi All,

I hope you are doing well.

I am writing to formally submit my resignation from my position as Business Analyst at EXL.

As I am currently serving my probation period, I request you to confirm the applicable notice period and my official last working day in accordance with the company's probation and separation policies. I will complete all required exit formalities and provide the necessary support to ensure a smooth transition.

I sincerely thank EXL for the opportunity to learn and grow professionally during my tenure. It has been a valuable experience working with the organization and contributing to projects with The Oakbridge Way and Cyber Risk Insurance. I truly appreciate the guidance and support provided by my managers and team members.

As part of the separation process, I kindly request the following documents, wherever applicable:

- Experience Letter
- Relieving Letter
- Resignation Acceptance Letter
- Salary Slips
- Full and Final Settlement Statement
- Form 16 for FY 2025–26, if applicable
- PF/UAN details and confirmation of the Date of Exit update
- Asset Handover Acknowledgement
- Confirmation of my official Last Working Day

These documents will be important for my future employment and background-verification requirements. I would appreciate your support in providing them as part of the exit process.

Kindly acknowledge my resignation, confirm the applicable notice period, and last working day.

Thank you for your understanding and support.

Regards,
Sagar Saini
